

Information Security Office as a Service (ISOS)

ISOS is a comprehensive managed security service that enables your organisation to address key challenges and business objectives by providing dedicated cyber security resources and expert guidance. ISOS provides you with the flexibility to choose from Bridewell's range of Cyber and Data Privacy services to ensure you are leveraging the services which will deliver the most value to your organisation.

ISOS Process

Assess

Bridewell will provide a lead consultant who will work alongside your business to understand your key challenges and business objectives, what services and solutions are available in-house and what additional services are needed to achieve your goals.

Plan

With the right ISOS approach defined, your lead consultant will then develop a plan that maps out how and when services will be delivered and key milestones reached.

Support

Your lead consultant will then implement the plan and deliver the agreed services and leveraging additional resource from the wider Bridewell team as needed.

Review

At the end of the engagement, your lead consultant will review the overall engagement against the stated objectives and provide the option to continue your ISOS service.

Value and Benefit

A Unified Offering

Leverage the full range of Bridewell's cyber security and data privacy services to support business goals and tackle ever-evolving cyber threats.
